RAM Technologies Named to Philadelphia Business Journal's List of Top Tech Employers

FORT WASHINGTON, PENN. – October 6, 2009 - RAM Technologies, Inc., a leading developer of enterprise wide software solutions for health plans has once again been named to the Philadelphia Business Journal's List of Top Tech Employers in the Greater Philadelphia region. RAM Technologies solutions include HEALTHsuite® and eHealthsuite™, leading edge applications that automate the administration of health benefits.

HEALTHsuite is an enterprise wide application with fully integrated functionality to support all aspects of a health plan's business. Individual modules include member management, benefit administration, provider contracting, reimbursement, medical management, premium billing, care management, claims adjudication, subrogation, overpayment recovery, customer service, electronic data interchange, reporting and more.

eHealthsuite is RAM's web portal product that reduces demands on customer support personnel by providing real-time access to information for members, providers, brokers and employer groups. Together these solutions provide health care payers with a fully integrated system that greatly reduces today's administrative expenses.

"We appreciate the recognition by the Philadelphia Business Journal regarding our growing influence in the industry and the region," states Robert A. Tulio, President of RAM Technologies. "Being named to the Top Tech Employers list is an honor that we will continue to seek in the future. The strength of our organization and the adaptability of our products are integral to our continued growth and success. HEALTHsuite and eHealthsuite are versatile products that enable our clients to meet today's complex business needs, while providing them with advanced capabilities they will need in the future as the health care landscape continues to evolve and health care reform becomes a reality."

The Philadelphia Business Journal's "Top Tech Employers" is an annual list that recognizes Greater Philadelphia organizations that are experiencing the greatest growth. RAM Technologies has also been named to the Journal's list of Top Software Developers in the region.
